For many years Myanmar operated an inward-looking economic system built on import substitution. Ultimately this policy failed, leaving behind inefficient state economic enterprises and widespread poverty. Political unrest in 1988 led a newly installed military government to liberalize the economy, opening it to foreign investment and private participation in trade. This move towards a market economy was in line with world-wide trends, but political instability forced the country to follow a course different from neighboring countries. By analyzing economic policies and performance across the economic spectrum, this book presents an overall picture of economic development in Myanmar between 1988 and the early 2000s. The authors synthesize both macro and micro level data to overcome some of the limitations of unreliable national statistics, and show how the government attempted to deal with two key issues it faced. The first was how to reform the inefficient socialistic economic system in conformity with a market economy, and the second was how to develop the agricultural and underdeveloped economy to alleviate mass poverty. Worldwide Government Directory with Intergovernmental Organizations 2013 Penguin A new first-edition DK Eyewitness Travel Guide to Asia's top

This is a compilation of the list of universities in the world. This first directory volume contains the list of universities from countries that fall within the index A-H. The directory is made up of the names of the universities and their web addresses.

Many universities are without web addresses. They are mentioned as well. The aim is to inform you that the university exists and you are advised to contact the appropriate embassy of that country to get the reliable address. However, three-quarters of the universities included in this first volume do have functional websites.
