 Cathy Coote is the most exciting young talent of 1999 Innocents is destined to be the most talked-about book of 1999 My darling ... All of this is my fault. I can't get your face out of my mind ... There were no mitigating circumstances. There were no excuses. I wasn't young and malleable and suffering from an overdose of Hanibal the Cannibal. I wasn't a victim of child sexual abuse. I didn't grow up in a civil war zone. My uncle didn't beat me. I don't even have the excuse of neglect ... She is a schoolgirl with a secret obsession. He is her high school teacher. When she decides to seduce him, his world turns upside down. I wanted you at that moment, when I understood how desperately you wanted me. I wanted you when I saw how you dreaded to touch me ... When I saw you violently pinching the skin of your own wrist ... 'I do ...' I made the easy declaration seem difficult, pretending to fumble for words that were readily available, 'care about you.' Big eyes again. This was the moment. Biting my lip, making my face tentative, I asked out of the blue, 'Will you kiss me?' She moves in with him; he has no choice but to resign from the school. He takes an undemanding job outside the school system, and the two of them retreat into their own private world. He is delirious with delight and fear; she works to keep his interest at fever pitch. There can be no room for anyone or anything else in his life. As their relationship deepens, she plays ever more elaborate games to get him to reveal his darkest, innermost desires. Then the tables turn ... Precocious, disturbing and morally complex, Innocents is a coolly told portrait of manipulation and desire.

 Holistic mission, or integral mission, implies God is concerned with the whole person, the whole community: body, mind and spirit. Many Christians concentrate only on one aspect. This book reaffirms that to be true to the Bible, to follow the example of Jesus, the church must address the whole person in all their needs. It considers the meaning of the holistic gospel, how it has developed, and implications for the individual Christian, for the local church, for denominations and church groups, for missionary societies, for Christian NGOs, and for theological training institutions. It takes a global, eclectic approach, with 19 writers, church leaders, academics and practitioners, all of whom have much experience in, and commitment to, holistic mission. It addresses critically and honestly one of the most exciting, challenging, and important issues facing the church today. To be part of God's plan for God's people, the church must take holistic mission to the world.

Panty Penguin
 From the 2013 Orange Prize-winning author of May We Be Forgiven. Only a work of such searing, meticulously controlled brilliance could provoke such a wide range of visceral responses. Here is the incredible story of an imprisoned pedophile who is drawn into an erotically charged correspondence with a nineteen-year-old suburban coed. As the two reveal—and revel in—their obsessive desires, Homes creates in The End of Alice a novel that is part romance, part horror story, at once unnerving and seductive.

The Allure of Nymphets Grove/Atlantic, Inc.

"André Bazin (1918-58) is credited with almost single-handedly establishing the study of film as an accepted intellectual pursuit, as well as with being the spiritual father of the French New Wave. Among those who came under his tutelage were four who would go on to become the most renowned directors of the postwar French cinema: François Truffaut, Jean-Luc Godard, Jacques Rivette, and Claude Chabrol. Bazin can also be considered the principal instigator of the equally influential auteur theory: the idea that, since film is an art form, the director of a movie must be perceived as the chief creator of its unique cinematic style. André Bazin, the Critic as Thinker: American Cinema from Early Chaplin to the Late 1950s contains, for the first time in English in one volume, much if not all of Bazin's writings on American cinema: on directors such as Orson Welles, Charles Chaplin, Preston Sturges, Alfred Hitchcock, Howard Hawks, John Huston, Nicholas Ray, Erich von Stroheim, and Elia Kazan; and on films such as High Noon, Citizen Kane, Rear Window, Limelight, Scarface, Niagara, The Red Badge of Courage, Greed, and Sullivan's Travels. André Bazin, the Critic as Thinker: American Cinema from Early Chaplin to the Late 1950s also features a sizable scholarly apparatus, including a contextual introduction to Bazin's life and work, a complete bibliography of Bazin's writings on American cinema, and credits of the films discussed. This volume thus represents a major contribution to the still growing academic discipline of cinema studies, as well as a testament to the continuing influence of one of the world's pre-eminent critical thinkers."

Folk Devils and Moral Panics St. Martin's Press

A young novelist “turns Nabokov on his head in this tale of an Aussie Lolita who sets her sights on a witless teacher . . . enthralling and ultimately sobering” (Kirkus Reviews). Written when Cathy Coote was nineteen, Innocents draws readers into the anatomy of an adolescent obsession. We all know that manipulating someone naïve and vulnerable into a sexual relationship to satisfy a twisted desire is wrong—even evil. But when the perpetrator is a sixteen-year-old schoolgirl, is she culpable? And if the victim is her thirty-four-year-old teacher, shouldn't he have known better? When the nameless young narrator of Innocents decides to seduce her teacher, she immediately realizes that the power of her sexuality is greater than she ever imagined. She leaves the aunt and uncle who are her guardians and moves in with her teacher; together, they quickly embark on a journey into their darkest desires. Unforgettable, disturbing, and morally complex, Innocents permanently unsettles our notions of innocence, experience, and power. “Coote is a natural, wryly dissecting the workings of human desire.” —The New York Times Book Review
